cloudpro

Full Suite of Services

Drive business agility and flexibility through CloudPro™ Hybrid-Cloud Consulting and Integration Services. CloudPro consulting services help you understand your current IT environment and ability to migrate to a hybrid-cloud environment. We work closely with you to understand your business goals and to accelerate business innovation across your organization.

Consulting Services

CloudPro Hybrid-Cloud Assessment Services are consultative engagements designed to evaluate your technology and processes for implementing and adopting cloud services. These services provide you with guidance and direction for implementing your private, public and hybrid-clouds using your own infrastructure or partnering with leading cloud service providers.

The assessments include a review of your current environment, a summary of your current dependencies and gaps, an assessment of your portfolio and roadmap and a review of your implementation, integration and operational capabilities.

CloudPro offers the following hybrid-cloud consulting services:

- Cloud Operational Readiness Assessment
- Cloud Application Readiness Assessment
- Cloud Infrastructure Readiness Assessment

Integration Services

CloudPro Hybrid-Cloud Integration Services help you address your most critical business imperatives to get the most out of your cloud investment. Our services give you the world-class technical resources you need to integrate, automate and customize hybrid-cloud applications and processes.

Now you can accelerate your cloud integration and automation projects by leveraging our team of design consultants, development engineers and technical architects. Our consultants can support you during any phase of your project and help ensure it stays on track.

Key Benefits

CloudPro Hybrid-Cloud Readiness Assessment Services offers these business benefits:

- Faster and more efficient development and delivery of new cloud services
- Future-proof your cloud investment
- Ensure a successful project with our experienced team of cloud experts

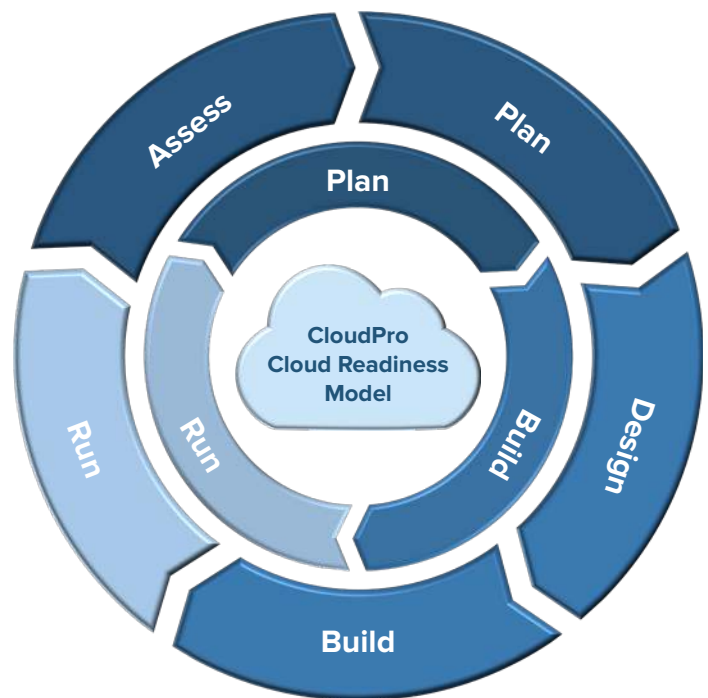

Service Objectives

CloudPro makes it easy for you to create and implement cloud solutions that reduce your costs and maximize efficiency. Our collaborative and innovative approach accelerates your deployments and dramatically improves your return on your IT investment. Companies from all industries throughout the U.S. are turning to CloudPro to help them gain a competitive advantage through the seamless integration of cloud services in their hybrid-IT environment.

Our Methodology

Our innovative methodology accelerates your implementation and deployment and dramatically improves your return on your IT investment. We apply our deep expertise in cloud design, development, and management to enable you to navigate your hybrid cloud options. Our methodology helps you understand your current state of cloud readiness. We perform a gap analysis, identify areas of concern and recommend the next steps for migration to the optimal cloud solution for your business.

The readiness assessment process consists of data gathering, client interviews, gap analysis, and remediation. Our process includes a high-level TCO analysis as well as operations, application, and infrastructure capability and maturity roadmaps.
